Projects

Project: Book Raiders

Purpose: Book Raiders is a system that combines reading, and therefore education, the world of mobile applications by going through the development of English language skills. In addition, the whole project is garnished with a moderate use of advertising by the publishing world and partnerships with e-commerce sites that provide discounts based on the user's game progress.

Market Target: Play Store, App Store, Windows Store (The application is, in fact, realized with the crossplatform technology, so that we can have a unique code for the three operating systems).
